

PRESS RELEASE
For immediate release

Feb 21, 2020 -- Christian Grey Fan Page (GCFP) announces a new business partner and a new name.

With over 400,000 followers, and a reach of 506,177, Biblio Babes--formerly Christian Grey Fan Page--welcomes new owner Melissa Rheinlander, who has served as Social Media Manager for GGFP since 2013.

In a statement Biblio Babes said, "We have teamed up with two new biblio babes to bring you fresh and fun content. Beginning March 1st, we will have biweekly author features and interviews, new release and book sale news and much, much more."

The new site, <https://bibliobabes.net>, will launch March 1, 2020, will feature never before seen content and features.

About Melissa

Melissa Rheinlander is a Momma to a beautiful, spunky, fun loving little girl. Lover of family, friends, books, Mexican Martinis (sometimes Bloody Mary's or Margaritas) & Wine. Melissa has worked in publishing for years, helping International Best-selling authors. She is the Executive Assistant to New York Times Bestselling Author J. Kenner, as well as Manager for Martini & Olive Publishing, owner of Biblio Babes and MSRheinlander Consulting.

Melissa Rheinlander is a seasoned expert in the publishing business who quite literally does it all. She consults with authors, industry professionals and book bloggers on every aspect of their business, from website content to book covers and everything in between.

But more than that, she is a "super conductor" - connecting people in all areas of the business. If you're not sure what PR company will be a good fit for you, you need an amazing assistant, or you're looking for a web designer, Melissa knows the perfect person for you.

She is your go-to resource for quick, honest answers to any questions you may have. All you have to do is ask.

For Information:
Bibliobabes Media

Jennifer Watson
Social Butterfly PR
jenn@socialbutterflypr.net
www.Socialbutterflypr.net

For Writing Submissions
Melissa Rheinlander bibliobabesinfo@gmail.com